FOR FIRE PROTECTION

Engine Company No. 13 Installed.

FELICITOUS EXERCISES

ADDRESSES BY COMMISSIONER

MACFARLAND AND OTHERS.

Beautiful Set of Flags and Floral Horse

Shoe Presented—A Quick

Summons.

The number "thirteen" and a big floral horseshoe to offset the hoodoo, played a conspicuous part in the ceremonies attending the installation of No. 13 engine company last night. The new company, which was presented by the fire department, had its members, chief and crew, and the engine and hose carriage appeared as if they had not been out of the shops more than a few hours, when the three District Commissioners, Chief Belt of the fire department, Major Sylvester, superintendent of police, and members of citizens' associations reached the building. There was also a large gathering of residents of South Washington at the building. They were glad to know that their section of the city would have better fire protection than ever before, and were on hand to welcome the firemen who are to do service for them.

Mr. James F. Scaggs, president of the South Washington Citizens' Association, was one of the early arrivals at the home of the new company, corner of 10th and G streets southwest. Others who composed the committee of the association in charge of the presentation of the flags to the new company were Mr. W. A. H. Church, vice president, Mr. B. F. Thompson, secretary, Thomas F. Thompson, treasurer, Dr. Millard F. Thompson, Rev. Claudius Smith,

Dr. G. R. Lee Cole, Rev. Charles F. Smith, and Mr. J. X. Stevens. Music was furnished by Haley's orchestra. The condition of the house, horses and fire apparatus made such a fine showing that there had been no effort made at decorations. Shortly before 4:30 o'clock the officials and guests were invited to the dormitory, where the musicians were playing and the company were begun by Mr. Scaggs, in his speech, presenting the several flags to the company. Directing his remarks to the company, he said:

"We are more than pleased to have you with us this afternoon. We have not inited you here to flatter any complaints, nor to roast you. It is possible, that in the future, we shall ask you to participate of a roast, not that which comes from a disrespect, but that which comes from a dis-

respect, but that which comes from a dis-

respect, but that which comes from a dis-

respect, but that which comes from a dis-
